- Invasion accolades are now available for purchase from Krijjkar! (The spoils of war system, which provides a chance for special rare loot based on your accolades, is still in the process of being implemented.)
- The bonuses on requisition gear have been improved slightly. (Any requisition gear purchased before this update will have its bonuses improved the next time you log in.)
- Requisition gear now costs less faction to obtain.
- Fixed a bug which allowed players to access requisition gear slots which they did not possess enough accolades to unlock.
- Improved a number of general help files to be more informative for new players.
