

New Avatar System

Written by Nemesis

Wednesday, 30 April 2008 23:11 - Last Updated Thursday, 01 May 2008 17:51

Added a new avatar system to the website that allows users to create their own customizable avatars. It's actually a really cool system cause there's tons of items one can buy from it to create their avatar. There's currently Chibi characters and World of Warcraft Alliance characters with their different classes of armors. The chibi sets has tons of clothes and accessories you can buy to make your avatar.

You maybe asking, "How do i get points to buy stuff?" Well, thats easy, be an active member on the forum, and you'll gain points. The more you post, the more points you get. It's that easy!

Small hint about oversized images too, you can resize your items on the canvas by holding shift and dragging the item.

Here's an example of what the system looks like:

To check out the new feature, visit the following link.
<http://www.nodeka411.net/my-avatar.html>